In Department One yesterday Hercules A. Juarez, a sixteen-year-old boy, appeared before Judge Smith for examination by Drs. Chapman and Nadeau as to his sanity and in accordance with their recommendation.

was committed to the asylum at Napa. The boy, whose parents reside in Santa Barbara county, has been working for Dr. C. H. Gillingham, one of the three doctors.

RENAULT'S TRIAL POSTPONED

Owing to the inability of Mrs. Eichols and Mrs. Collins, two material witnesses for the prosecution, to appear on account of sickness, Judge Smith yesterday continued the trial of J. Renault, charged with having assaulted the former lady with intent to commit rape, until the 23d inst.

WILL PAY THE INTEREST.

In Department Three yesterday Judge Wade issued an order directing Receiver J.

F. Frank of the Pacific Railway Company to pay $13,540, the amount of the interest due on $30 bonds issued by the Los Angeles Cable Railway Company before the liquidation of the inst. It appearing to the satisfaction of the court that the same was for the best interests of the company and its creditors.

Court Notes.

In Department. Two yesterday Judge Clark was occupied for some time in a contest over the distribution of the estate of Just L. Martine, deceased, the general executor having sought to set aside the claims of the preferred creditors, which cover the full amount of the value of the trial of the case of F. Byrville against P. Nicolaia, suit to recover damages in the sum of $1500 alleged to have been sustained by reason of the negligence of defendants in tearing down a wall, corner of New High street and Bellevue avenue, was concluded at 12:30 o'clock. The jury returned at 1:30 p.m. the jury, after a short deliberation, returning a verdict for the defendant.

The argument in the famous case of Ex parte Strawn began against Mr. Justice Brandeis. Strawn was summoned before the Supreme Court in Department Three yesterday, but today no conclusion, and went over again until today. R. H. Chapman, Esq., and Hon. S. M. McWhorter, Jr., appeared for the government. Mr. White addressed the Court on behalf of the defendant, and characteristically strong speeches yesterday.

In Department Four yesterday the case of Ex parte B. J. Reeve against C. Save et al., alleged to have been a conspiracy to defraud the government, was brought to the court. The sum of $751.31, alleged to have been paid to the defendant, was brought in. The case was dismissed by Judge Ward in accordance with the stipulation of counsel.

The jury in the case of W. L. Webb against the Redondo Railway Company, suit for damages for injury to property, returned at 1:30 p.m. a verdict for the plaintiff, Judge Dyke in Department Four yesterday afternoon, but owing to the lateness of the hour at which the case of Byrville vs. Nicolaia was concluded, the matter was not taken up.

The defendant in the case of E. L. Thomas against F. L. Stanley, a suit quiet title to a part of section 2, T. 2 S., R. 2 W., having allowed the matter to go by default, Judge Van Dyke yesterday ordered judgment for the plaintiff.

In the Department Five yesterday afternoon the trial of the case of the First National Bank of Pomona against H. O.'Brien, which related to the title to a lot of land, for the noncompliance plaintiff's building within the time specified in defendant's contract, which has been dragging along for the past seven days, was concluded, the matter being submitted to Judge McKinnis.

New Suits.

Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

Los Angeles Terminal Railway Company vs. James Clements; suit to condemn right-of-way eight feet wide across defendant's land in the Hlymra tract.

Andrew Glassell vs. M. L. Wicks et al.; suit to foreclose a mortgage for $1800.

First National Bank of Pasadena vs. Palmator; suit to foreclose a mortgage for $2000.

Same vs. Mary Palmator et al.; suit to foreclose a mortgage for $3400.

THE EAST SIDE.

Mrs. Walker's Immediate Wants Relieved—The Wheat Family.

Mrs. Walker, the East Side woman who was left destitute by a brute of a husband with six little children on her hands, was called on by quite a number of charitable citizens, yesterday, and her immediate wants attended to. John Jackson left with Officer McKeag, at the East Side police station, and several other people scattered around money and clothing.

All was quiet in the vicinity of the Wheat house yesterday. Whenever What visit to see his children now he goes to the post station and asks for a body guard. He does not respond to the offers of chances with his wife's little pit since she chased him out of the yard. Capt. McKeag accompanied him the house yesterday and asked Mrs. if they still had the children. She replied that the father might see them a few minutes in the yard, but she would not permit him to come in the house. The child entertained their father in the yard while the mother explained to the officer that she did not permit the children to play alone, and she does not believe they can throw stones at passing street-cars, as

been stated by some of the cable men.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Spurt in the Real-estate Market
The Park Enterprise.

There is a little spurt in the Boyle Heights real-estate market for the first time several years, and if the residents of this beautiful section of the city can carry out their park enterprise, the demand for residence property will be greater than it has ever in boom times.

A number of handsome houses are going up, and property is being improved on all sides. The ladies who started the

NOTES OF THE DAY.

POLITICAL affairs are very agitated
in Samoa.

It has been raining considerably up north. Rather late in the season.

It is reported that the "stuffed prophet" will soon be a fond papa.

The Chamber of Commerce is working actively to increase its membership.

The transatlantic steamers are rapidly working the time of passage down
to five days.

CARL SCHURZ is to be a member of the commission that is going to Europe
to boom the World's Fair.

The Kansas Farmers' Alliance is taking steps to defeat the foreclosure
of farm mortgages in that State.

A COMMITTEE has been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to look after Southern California's interests at the World's Fair.

The ramifications of the Philadelphia bank scandal appear to be wide.
The matter should be probed to the bottom, and doubtless will be.

A FRENCH expedition from Loango
has met with an overwhelming disaster, having been roasted and eaten
—that is, the members of the expedition.

SIR WILLIAM CUMMING now promises to write a book about the baccarat episode. After that, it will be "on the cards" to put the case celebre on the stage.

It is said that the nomination of Maj. McKinley as Governor of Ohio is assured, and that he will practically have a "walk-over," owing to differences among the Democrats.

The Florida orange crop during the season just closed was about 1,000,000
boxes heavier than was estimated.
The yield was figured at 1,600,000
boxes, whereas it was fully 2,600,000
boxes.

A LADY of New York has suggested that the managers of the World's Fair, as a matter of national pride as well as for the astonishment of foreign visitors, should make a collection of Americans 100 years old.

The Michigan Legislature passed a bill appropriating $30,000 for the entainment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which Governor Winans vetoed on the ground that it is unjust to tax the people of the State for the pleasure of individuals.

TOMORROW'S TIMES will, as usual,
be a very interesting and complete issue. A partial table of contents will be found in another column. Newsdealers should order today. The Sunday Times is steadily growing in popularity. It is a great family paper.

LONDON dispatches show that the effect of the baccarat scandal will be far-reaching in extent, and may even involve the very existence of monarchy
in England. The great English middle class appears to be thoroughly aroused, and the Radicals in Parliament will, of course, make the most of the opportunity.

In tomorrow's TIMES will be commenced the publication of a series of fifteen letters by fifteen American authorities of renown. The first of these articles, by Elaine Goodale, describes a summer outing among the Sioux, among which people Miss Goodale
has been engaged in missionary work and has recently married an educated member of the tribe.

HON. GEORGE L. CONVERSE, a Democrat, pays the following deserved
tribute to Senator Sherman:

I am a Democrat, but am free to say that the retirement of Mr. Sherman from any cause would be a national misfortune.
Believe that he is the greatest statesman
in this country today, and Democrat though I am, and fully appreciating his great ability and worth to the entire country, would, if I had the vote necessary to retire him or elect
him, name him as my choice for the reasons
I have given.

J. W. POTTS has left at THE TIMES
office a sample of very large and fine
potatoes, grown without irrigation on top of a hill northwest of town. These potatoes, some of which weigh over one pound, have been grown in less than two months. How can we expect easterners to fully appreciate our resources, when we ourselves do not half realize what can be done with our land?

A SAN FRANCISCO druggist talking with a newspaper reporter claims that there are not more than two drug stores in that city which do not pay physicians a large commission on prescriptions, the commissions varying in amount from 50 to 100 per cent. The physicians have an arrangement by which the recipes are only comprehensible to the favored druggists. Of course the customer has to pay the commission. This is a mean species of robbery and very hard on the poor. It is probably not confined to San Francisco.

immigrants to the land. A proposition is before the State Board from capitalists who will purchase lands to be given to settlers on easy terms, provided the money-lenders receive 6 per

AMERICA'S SOCIAL SCUM.

Commenting on the corruption in high English circles which the baccarat
case has disclosed, the Stockton Mail very truly observes that the condition of affairs in this country varies
only in degree from that of England.
It says:

Here, as there, the upper and lower ranks of life are besetted, frivolous and corrupt. Here, the whole class contains most of the moral and intellectual strength of the people. Everywhere the history of mankind teaches that poverty
and wealth are equally servile and Everywhere that history emphasizes the truth that the ones who must work, yet in working share the same lot with the most blessed of all men. To work and thrive is a royal thing; to work and starve, or to live in luxury without labor, are equally baneful. England's aristocracy has become a rotten thing, because Satan still gives
work to idle hands; and as the years pass,
the same master will more and more look out for America's wealthy idlers. If Great Britain were as evil throughout as are its blue-blooded peers, the nation would not long exist. Science floats on the surface of water, but the life-giving liquid is beneath.
It would be well for the English people to clear away a little scum, and while they are doing it, it would be equally well for Americans to take a few notes and derive a moral from the operation. They are a hard-working, the English nobility, with notable exceptions—but they are the inevitable
product of luxury and idleness.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE.—Last night the Charles Frohman company gave their initial performance of Diplomacy to a large house. As it was the first time the company had ever appeared in this difficult play, which is to be their leading card for the next two weeks in San Francisco, considerable interest naturally attached to the rendition. The cast was as follows:

Count Orloff.....John Johnson
Baron Stein.....Frank Morand
Henry Beauclerc.....Frederic de Belleville
Capt. Julian Beauchamp.....William
A. Fairfax.....John C. Buckstone
Karl.....Munnet Corrigan
Antonia.....Edgar C. Mackay
Doña de la Zarza.....Maude Adams
Doña de la Zarza.....Maude Adams
Countess Ziska.....Sydney Armstrong
Lady Henry Fairfax.....Kate Masie

The performance went with a smoothness that would have been remarkable if the support had been in any less competent hands. As is the case in their other play
the men in the cast are, it must be admitted, stronger as artists than the women. Representation might be improved, if it is suggested, if the part of "Henry Beauclerc" were undertaken by Mr. Robert who could play it perfectly. Mr. Johnson, as "Baron Stein," allotted to Mr. de Belleville whose sight accent could be deepened to suit the character, and would at any rate not appear so much out of place as the woman. In this change, of course Mr. Morand, who is a good as the wild old diplomatist; he is a stage veteran of over twenty-five years'
standing, and his work always thorough.
For a long time regarded as a good reliable actor, he has in the last few years come to the front to stay and is without a successful rival in a line of character parts.
In Men and Women, he played the part of "Henry Beauclerc," a good conception well carried out, but that the accent is a little incorrect, and that the actor being necessarily hidden, he remains at some disadvantage in the eyes of the audience. In Diplomacy, he is in a more sympathetic character. Mr. Johnson, as "Baron Stein," allotted to Mr. de Belleville whose

Americans who are not hero-worshippers, although they may fully recognize Mr. Blaine's great ability and merits, do not relish this talk about "the only Republican who could be elected," even as a supposition.
Such a supposition conveys a covert
insult to the party, suggesting a barrenness of resources and material which does not exist, nor is likely to exist. The Republican party has scores of able, honorable men, any one of whom could occupy the Presidential chair with credit to himself and the Nation.

The attempt of Mr. Blaine's injudicious friends to place him on a pedestal far above all other living Americans has injured their candidate's chances in the past and created much unnecessary resentment. If Mr. Blaine's friends are wise, and really desire again to push him forward
for the Presidential race, they will considerably modify their delinquent
of their hero and consequent belittling
of other worthy men.

Mr. Halstead is convinced that Blaine would not accept a nomination
that implied going on the stump.
This is a practical admission that Mr.
Blaine's physical powers are waning.
The fact that he could not be relied upon to assist in the campaign by making more than a few speeches might,
perhaps, be properly considered to counteract the unusual amount of personal magnetism with which his friends
credit him.

Mr. Halstead thinks that, in case it should be Blaine against Cleveland,
and he believes the latter will be nominated—Blaine would easily beat him.
Echoes of an impending Blaine boom
come from other quarters. Gen. Russell Alger, who is credited with still believing himself something of a Presidential possibility, told a Seattle reporter this week that he is in favor of Blaine, accompanying his remarks by the following somewhat bombastic and
blatant language:

If Mr. Blaine indicates to the Republican party that he will be its candidate for President, I believe they would nominate him in a moment, without a shadow of a doubt, and I believe that any man who might be nominated for the same office
by the opposing party.

It is somewhat remarkable that the experience of recent history does not seem to temper the enthusiasm of Mr.
Blaine's admirers with any appreciable amount of judgment. The mass of the American people are for a party
and for the principles which that party
represents, while the mass of Mr.
Blaine's supporters appear perennially
willing to make party interests subsidiary to those of the man whom they worship. This is a state of affairs which makes Democrats rejoice, but causes patriotic Republicans to grieve.

If Mr. Blaine's backers would permit the introduction into the discussion of an inquiry as to the best interests of the party, and would admit—if only for the sake of argument—the possibility of the existence of other available Republican candidates, the political situation would be much simplified and the outlook for Republican victory next year more thoroughly assured.

The Stockton Board of Trade has approved the proposition for the State Board of Trade to make selections of land anywhere it may elect and direct immigrants to the land. A proposition

capitalists who will purchase lands to be
given to settlers on easy terms, provided the money-lenders receive 6 per

RUSSELL'S WRATH.

The President's Son Uses a
"Big, Big R."

IN FACT, A NUMBER OF THEM.

All About Railroad Passes—The Solon
of a Noble House, Says He Is Getting Sick of the American Papers.

A story recently gained circulation
to the effect that Mr. Russell B. Harrison, in his capacity of assistant to the president of the Mount McGregor Railroad—length five miles—had been using the official letterheads of this magnificent highway of traffic in appeals to railway presidents all over the country for free passes, says a New York dispatch in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The president of the Mount McGregor Railroad is Mr. W.
J. Arkell. Mr. Russell B. Harrison's reputed partner in the illustrated
publication called Judge. Mr. Russell B. Harrison has been stopping at the Gilsey House for a day or two. Repeated calls were made there by a reporter for a morning paper yesterday afternoon without finding him.
It was getting on toward midnight when the reporter, finally found himself face to face with the distinguished gentleman. Mr. Harrison appeared in full regalia, the decoration
of a foreign order resting proudly on the lapel of his coat and three pairs of value shining lustrous on his immaculate shirt bosom. Mr. Harrison's pose and manner were those of a sovereign receiving homage; his glance was very awe-inspiring, and his profanity was of a superior quality. An explanation of the reporter's mission had hardly been entered on when he was interrupted with an impetuous wave of Mr.
Harrison's arm as he exclaimed, frown-
ing darkly:

"I want you to tell the editor of your paper that I consider this thing a piece of damned impudence! Do you catch my idea—damned impudence!"

"I'll tell him, sir," said the scribe.
"The fact of the matter is, I am getting very sick with the way the American papers are treating me. I want them to understand, one and all, and once for all, that the details of my private life are none of their damned business. Have you got that?"

"Yes, I've got that," was the reply.
"And now," (this being apparently an afterthought,) "What did you say your paper wanted with me this evening?" and Mr. Harrison gazed down affectionately at his foreign decorations.

"Why, it is about those railroad passes they say you have filled your pockets with."

"That's a lie, of course. But go ahead!"

It is reported that you have some connection with a five-mile railway
somewhere, called the Mount McGregor
road, and that you have used your position
there to get passes on other roads."

"Lies, all lies!"

"Then will you authorize a formal denial of this report?"

"No, I won't authorize you to deny a damned thing. If I get railway passes
I get them just as your paper does, in my capacity of journalist, and not as a railroad man. But that is none of your damned business. I think I told you that before."

"Excuse me, Mr. Harrison, but the paper I represent does not accept any railway passes."

"Well, it accepts money for advertisements, and I choose to accept passes instead of money. Do you see the point? Do you see the point?"

"Do you want me to state all this
as you have put it to me?"

"No, don't want you to state a damned thing. You can go back to the editor and tell him, first, that I absolutely refuse to submit to an interview or make any statement, whatsoever about those railway passes;
and, secondly—"

"Secondly—now don't forget this—
that if the editor don't treat me just right in the morning, I'll show up his paper and all its methods in an interview, just as sure as my name is Russell B. Harrison. Good night."

The reporter waited a moment, half expecting Mr. Harrison to add "Good morning," or make some reference to the "Monkey brand," but he did not,
and the scribe bade him "Good night."

Before being honored with this interview with Mr. Harrison, the reporter
made some inquiries in other quarters
on the interesting question of his alleged wholesale raid for free railroad passes. Of course, one of the kind who had been so conspicuously placed for loading upon vessels, constantly on hand. He was found hard at work with a billiard cue at the Plaza Hotel, where he is a guest. When told of the reports touching his able partner's enterprise in working the railroads, he

Blaine Takes a Hand in Venezuela's Dispute with England.

Why the United States Has Not Ratified
the Congo Treaty.

A Ruling Under the Tariff Law—
Queen Bees May Be Imported
Free of Duty—National Notes.

By Telegraph to the Times.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The Post, today in speaking of the visit of the Venezuelan commissioner, Dr. Pulido, to Mr.
Blaine, says:

The Post is now unable to state positively
and unequivocally that when Lolo Pulido,
the Venezuelan commissioner, who recently visited London in the vain hope of settling the boundary dispute, called upon Secretary Blaine in this city, he received from that gentleman assurances more substantial in their character than those previously hinted at in these columns. Secretary Blaine expressed to Dr. Pulido the deep interest which the United States felt in the settlement of this boundary question.

In this declaration the Secretary not only simply followed in the footsteps of his predecessors, but went further. He said to Dr.
Pulido that the interest thus felt was partly
due to the friendly feeling of this country toward Venezuela. He said that he, however, he said, significantly, was the belief that the future greatness and undisturbed autonomy of the western hemisphere demanded that the mouth of a great American river like the Orinoco should not be controlled by a foreign maritime and commercial power like Great Britain.

The advisability of making public these utterances of Blaine pending negotiations was seriously questioned by experienced diplomats, but Dr. Pulido gave his assurance of doing so, and has attested the correctness of the conversation in a report made over his own signature.

THE AFRICAN SLAVE TRADE.

Why the United States Has not Ratified the Congo Treaty.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] A number of inquiries have been received at the State Department from philanthropic organizations and individuals as to the failure of the United States to signify its adherence to the Congo treaty, the final ratification of which must be exchanged before the end of the month.

This treaty is an agreement to suppress the slave trade and the sale of breach-loading firearms and intoxicants
in the Congo district of equatorial Africa, and nearly all of the great powers have acceded to it. Inquiries at the State Department
it was replied that the subject is still pending in the United States Senate and the department does not feel at liberty to discuss the matter generally,
but it is proper to say that the ratification of the treaty will go into effect
at the appointed time in respect to all sovereignities except the United States,
and it will be left open to this Government to give its adherence to the treaty
at any time.

The opponents of the treaty in the last session of the Senate took their stand upon several propositions. One was that the approval of the treaty
by the United States would carry with it the recognition of certain French claims to a large part of Liberia, which recent events show are now being actively pushed, and as that country is regarded as one of our wards, we could not permit such aggression. It was also urged that the United States
could not consistently with the Monroe doctrine, undertake to join a plan
of dictation respecting affairs of an outer continent, and again it would be unwise for the United States to give recognition to the present rather than claims of European nations to the best portions of Africa which are tacitly
recognized by the treaty.

A TARIFF RULING.

Queen Bees May Be Imported Free
of Duty.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Assistant Secretary Spaulding has decided that queen
bees are entitled to entry free of duty
under the tariff provision for animals
specially imported for breeding purposes, notwithstanding the requirement that the provision for a certificate of pedigree showing pure breed cannot possibly be complied with in their case. This is in harmony with the practice under the old tariffs, but it is in conflict with the practice under the present tariff of assessing a duty on queen bees at the rate of 20 per cent. ad valorem under the provision for animals not otherwise provided for. The present ruling is based on representations that these bees are never imported for other than breeding purposes, and that they are always of superior breed.

Contract Awarded.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The contract for the brick and iron work on the public building at Sacramento,
Cal., has been awarded to Kreutzberg
& Harris, of that city at their bid, $151,091.

New Regulation as to Bonds.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Secretary of the Treasury has amended the general regulations relative to execution of bonds so as to provide that corporations other than a trust company can in no event be accepted as surety.

Not Guilty.

martial in the case of Commander Lynch, charged with negligence in stranding the Triana while on the way
to rescue the crew of the Galena, wrecked at Gay Head, found that officer not guilty.

A Murder Quickly Avenged.

tramp shot and killed Dillon. He then jumped from the train and started
across the fields pursued by Brakeman
Matting who finally killed him.

PITTSBURGH (Pa.), June 12.—A special from New Brighton, Pa., says that private information is received to the effect that Rudyard Kipling, the well-known young writer, is dying of

The Atchison's Prospects.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Dow, Jones
& Co.'s News Agency says: "Atchison directors say that the company is preparing for very active business this fall. One reason given for the strength

in Atchison recently is the progress of the matter of partitioning the proposed scheme for the operation of the Southwestern systems in thorough harmony.
We asked Huntington what there was to say in regard to this matter, and he replied that it is by no means a perfected yet. It was a great matter,
and was still under consideration."

Another Important Arrest at Philadelphia.

More Sensational Testimony at the Keystone Investigation.

Gen. Nettleton's Name Now Mixed Up in the Matter.

President Marsh Bribed to Become a Fugitive—The Legal Wrangle Over Bardley's Successor.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The deeper the experts probe into the affairs of ex-City Treasurer Bardley the more apparent his rascalities become and the enormous sums which he made away with are daily added to. Yesterday the accountant reported a grave discrepancy in Bardley's accounts with the State, and today he presented Mayor Stuart with a statement showing that $420,000 of the State appropriation for public school purposes for the year ending June 30, together with a balance of $25,000 from the previous year, making a total of $445,000, had been misappropriated by Bardley to his own uses. The State Treasurer showed that the $420,000 noted above, was paid Bardley December 31. It is surmised that he used part of this vast sum to take up bad checks of the Keystone Bank for the $200,000 that he was carrying as cash.

Another arrest was made this afternoon in connection with the treasury scandal. H. H. Yard, former partner of President Marsh, deceased, of the Keystone Bank, in seaside speculations, was captured in Trenton, N. J., where he is being held to await requisition papers. Yard was a real-estate promoter, and closely connected with President Marsh of the Keystone Bank. He left the city a few days after Marsh disappeared. The warrant upon which Yard was arrested was issued on a charge of conspiracy with ex-Treasurer Bardley in stealing the city and State taxes.

The alleged conspiracy between Bardley and Yard was discovered by experts on Wednesday. On that night a warrant was sworn out by Expert Accountant Faunce. Yard was finally traced to Trenton this afternoon after a long chase. Yard was given a hearing on the affidavit charging him with conspiracy to misappropriate public funds and released on $10,000 bail pending requisition proceedings against him. The public money used by Bardley in connection with Yard amounted to $200,000.

PROBING FOR FACTS.

The Inquiry Continued—Some Sensational Testimony.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] United States District Attorney Reed appeared before the investigating committee of the Council this afternoon and made a personal explanation of his course in acting as attorney for the Keystone Bank as a member of the law firm of Reed & Pettit.

Auditor-General McCamant was the next witness. Rufus E. Shapely appeared with the Auditor-General and stated that he represented the Attorney-General of the State. Shapely said that owing to the prospective litigation between the State and the city of Philadelphia over the deficit in the State fund, the Auditor-General by the advice of the Attorney-General must refuse to answer any questions that will be disadvantageous to the case of the State, but that a statement of monies owing the State by the city would be furnished by the Auditor-General. The Auditor-General then read the statement in which it was shown that there was still due the State from licenses, loans and axes collected by Bardley for the year 1890 a total of $315,715.

State Treasurer Boyer was also called, but the same objection to his answering questions as in the case of the Auditor-General was made by Shapely.

Harry C. Jones, Assistant Bank Examiner, testified that the Comptroller of the Currency Lacey was here on the 8th of February last and was at the Keystone Bank. He was shown a statement of the condition of the bank, including the falsification of the ledger, padding of New York bank accounts and carrying of due bills as assets.

Ex-Director of Public Works Wagner testified to conferences held between himself and officials of the Keystone Bank regarding his acceptance of the presidency of the bank.

"During the cross-examination Gen. Wagner was asked what he knew about the Spring Garden Bank. Wagner, who, before he was approached in the subject of the presidency of the bank, was a candidate for re-election to the bank, testified that when he first went to the bank on the subject of the presidency, he said to Bank Examiner Drew that he understood that receivership had been settled upon and it was to Nelson F. Evans, president of the Spring Garden Bank, and director of the Spring Garden Bank. Wagner also added that he understood that Wanamaker was backing Evans for the position. In reply, Drew said to Gen. Wagner: "No, I think you are mistaken. Wanamaker has nothing to do with it. Now, that explains something I did not understand. Assistant Secretary Nettleton is a great friend of Evans and he is probably backing him for the position. It also explains some accounts at the Spring Garden I did not understand—where Nettleton appears as a large creditor."

Wagner said he had since looked into the papers for the name of Assistant Secretary Nettleton as one of the lenders of the bank, but had not seen it.

Adjourned until Monday.

DREW AND NETTLETON.

They Both Deny the Testimony of Gen. Wagner.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The attention of Assistant Secretary Nettleton was tonight called to the testimony of Gen. Wagner before the Council's committee at Philadelphia, investigating the bank scandal. Nettleton said: "I never asked Nelson F. Evans or any other person as a candidate for the receivership of the suspended Keystone Bank. After the bank had been closed some days, and when the Comptroller of Currency, who had little acquaintance in Philadelphia, was considering several names for the receiver."

ship, I suggested Evans, and recommended the Comptroller to make inquiries in Philadelphia as to his fitness, which he proceeded to do. I had not the slightest suspicion of any financial weakness or complications on the part of Evans or of the Spring Garden National Bank, until the announcement of the failure of that bank. Evans had known his name was to be mentioned for the Keystone receivership until sometime after it was done. I suggested his name simply because I had known him long and believed him every way fit. I borrowed no money from the Spring Garden Bank. It is probable certain accommodation notes, on which I am responsible, were drawn on that institution. If so, I am simply among the losers by the bank's failure, which I regret."

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—National Bank Examiner Drew was seen tonight in regard to the statement attributed to him by Gen. Wagner this afternoon that Assistant Secretary Nettleton was a large borrower of the Spring Garden Bank. When first asked if he had made such a statement to Gen. Wagner, Col. Drew said it was absolutely untrue. Drew afterward withdrew this sweeping denial, and qualified it by saying he had no recollection of having said anything on the subject, but still it was possible that Wagner's memory was better than his.

Drew was then asked if it was so that Gen. Nettleton was a borrower of the bank, but refused to answer, saying he would not allow to answer questions like that. Col. Drew was very averse to saying anything whatever, intimating that Gen. Nettleton was the proper person to see on the subject, and not himself.

MARSH THE FUGITIVE.

He Was Paid to Get Out of the Country.

NEW YORK, June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The World prints this dispatch from Philadelphia: "Details of a conference that occurred on the Saturday night before President Marsh's flight would cast more light upon the mystery that envelops the affairs of the Keystone Bank than anything yet brought out. A large sum of money was offered Marsh and Lawrence to leave the country. The sum mentioned to your correspondent by his informant was $20,000 cash and assurance that the week's start on the way to liberty. President Marsh called for Barbood on the following Wednesday under an assumed name. Lawrence, the assistant cashier, declined peremptorily. He said whatever he had done had been at the direct command of Lucas and Marsh, and that he had never profited to the extent of one penny by falsification of the books of the bank. He was already under large bail, which was further increased by his father-in-law, and he did not contemplate leaving his bondsmen in the lurch. He had decided to face the music and give the committee all the information in his power. John Bardley was present at that very important interview and implored Marsh and Lawrence to go away until he could arrange matters. Bardley never appeared to have contemplated flight, but fully expected to have the bank reorganized, and to come out of the entanglements safely."

BARDLEY'S SUCCESSOR.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—The Supreme Court this morning decided that the City Council did not have the right to select a successor to City Treasurer Bardley. The appointment of Wright by Gov. Pattison is therefore sustained.

A LENGTHY OPINION OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE SAID:

Sufficient to say that for the purpose of this case we must regard the office designated City Treasurer as county and not a city office. The treasurer by whatever name he is called, is a county officer and exercises such functions.

A dissenting opinion was filed by Justices Williams and Mitchell.

UNION PRINTERS.

Edward Atkinson's Plain Talk to the Boston Convention.

BOSTON, June 12.—At the International Typographical Union Convention today the constitution was amended to make the president of the International Typographical Union a delegate ex-officio to the American Federation of Labor.

The proposition to cooperate with other organizations in establishing labor bureaus and labor lycuums was defeated. The following was adopted:

Employers and printers not working at the same time shall not be eligible for office in the International or subordinate unions, but they shall not be eligible for office in the International or subordinate unions.

Hon. Edward Atkinson addressed the convention this afternoon, and in the course of his remarks said that no laws or actions should in any way restrict the liberty of the individual in running any trade or disposing of his time. "At a student who has spent four hours a day," he said, "I view with distrust the disposition of large bodies of working men to rely more and more upon the State and summary legislation instead of their own individual exertions. This I come to warn you about."

R. O'Donnell of New York moved a vote of thanks to Atkinson and at the same time subjected that gentleman to a cross-examination. Atkinson responded to the question that no man should be deprived of liberty to work as long as he pleases and at whatever wages he pleases without regard to organization, shouts of "rats" and hisses came from all over the hall and more than half the delegates arose on the vote of thanks.

A SEVEN-ROUND FIGHT.

ODDEN (Uth), June 12.—George Morrison (Ogden) beaten Pat McHugh Wisconsin in seven round fight tonight. Morrison weighed 168 pounds and McHugh a little more. The Wisconsin man had the best of it for three rounds, after which Morrison's superior skill told. McHugh fouled in the last round to avoid a knockout.

A HEADLESS CORPSE.

FLORENCE (Colo.), June 12.—The headless and badly decomposed body of a man was found this afternoon five miles from here. Letters identify the man as Carl Neibuhr, of 433 Bush street, San Francisco. He had a ticket from San Francisco to Boston. He had evidently been murdered, but there was no clue to the murderer.

LIQUIQUE (Chile), June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Dispatches received from Toopilla say that some torpedo cruisers and the warship Imperiale recently landed men, who destroyed the archives in the government offices and carried away all the money they could find.

Eye witnesses emphatically deny the report that President Balmaceda's cruisers made an attack on Iquique. They say the Congressional warship chased them away. There were no Congressional vessels at Pisagua on the 8th when the attack was made on that place by the torpedo boats Almirante Lynch and Almirante Condell, but the torpedo boats retired when the forts opened fire on them. The Imperiale had been struck twice by shells but received only slight damage. The Congressional ships are all reported in good order, except the bottoms are a little foul.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A cable dispatch received from Chile by a mercantile house today confirms the news of the bombardment by government vessels of ports occupied by the insurgents. It is also reported that the forces of the government landed at various points on the coast, and were joyfully received. More than eight hundred soldiers and marines who were detained by the revolutionary forces were liberated and embarked on the transports. The steamer Imperiale, which reached here several days ago from Acapulco, was permitted to take a supply of coal from the stock of the Panama Railroad Company, sailed last night southward.

GERMAN GRAIN TARIFF.

Chancellor von Caprivi Defends the Government's Course.

BERLIN, June 12.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] In the lower house of the Prussian Diet today the debate on grain duties was resumed. Von Caprivi declared that it was impossible for the government to submit to the house the reports which have been received from foreign countries in regard to inquiries made by the government as to grain matters.

The Chancellor added, commenting on the Russian report, that there was no danger that Russia would not supply sufficient grain for the use Germany.

In conclusion, the Chancellor strongly protested against the reproach that the government had not paid due consideration to the welfare of the working people.

After considerable additional debate Ricker's motion, that the government should submit to the house the material upon which the Chancellor based his recent speech upon grain duties, was rejected by a vote of 223 to 20.

NOTES FROM ABROAD.

English Tories Strongly Opposed to the American Beef.

LONDON, June 12.—Copyright, 1891, by the New York Associated Press.

Several Tory members of Parliament, in the interest of the cattle trade, are pressing Chaplin to refuse American inspectors the privilege of supervising the labors of British officials inspecting imported cattle. Dr. Salmon's unreserved acceptance of the recent diagnosis by American officials conflicting with the British inspectors led to the outcry. Chaplin, in the meantime finds it politic to continue the system.

A RIPPER ARRESTED.

LONDON, June 12.—The police of London have arrested a weaver named Turner for the murder of a little girl, whose mutilated body was found in a bundle in the street.

D'LESSEPS UNDISMAYED.

PARIS, June 12.—In an interview today DeLesseps declared he was not aware of any steps taken to prosecute him or his son or any of the directors of the Panama Canal Company. He asserts it would be impossible to take such steps, as all his acts in regard to the Panama Canal scheme are legal and above board.

MORE CHINESE OUTRAGES.

LONDON, June 12.—A dispatch from Shanghai announces that attacks upon the Christian missions in the interior of China continue. In one case Chinese troops, sent to repress the rioters, sided with them and made matters still worse. At Takanang, missionaries were compelled to flee for their lives. There is great excitement among the Chinese living in the vicinity of Payand, near Kin Kiang, where the ladies from Hankang had sought refuge. About the neighborhood of the lake several missions were looted and burned.

REDDING, June 12.—There were several cloudbursts near the mountains west and north of Redding yesterday evening. They destroyed roads, washed out bridges, wrecked mining property, etc. Houses situated near the waterways were demolished.

Decided Against the Knights.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—It is understood the Secretary of the Treasury has decided to sustain the action of Assistant Secretary Nettleton in the matter of the controversy between the Superintendent of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the Knights of Labor, growing out of the recent dismissal of certain plate printers on the ground of insubordination. It is stated positively that the men will not be restored, but will be given an opportunity to reënter the service in the usual way.

HEALING THE SICK.

Excitement at Pittsburgh Over the Priest-Physician.

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The doings of Father Mullinger, the priest-physician, lately furnished material for many sensational stories. The reverend father today made a statement from the steps of a schoolhouse. He said no preference would be shown to any one. The weak and most sorely-afflicted ones, especially women and infants, will be attended to first. The scenes at Troyhill were more thrilling than on previous days. At the parochial school the people struggled for place near one of the three doors. The wonder is that half a dozen babies borne in their mother's arms were not severely hurt. Only one woman fainted. No cures of a miraculous nature were reported, though a number of visitors felt improved in health after consultation with the priest. Tomorrow, in St. Anthony's day and an immense crowd is expected to be present. The church and chapel have been specially decorated for the occasion.

Another Railway Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—It is stated here that the Denver and Rio Grande Western road has two surveying parties in the field, one in the San Joaquin Valley and the other starting from Marysville, Utah, for the purpose of surveying a route for the road to this city. The Santa Fé road is also reported to be interested in the scheme.

A Dangerous Fire Put Out.

SONOMA, June 12.—At 11 o'clock this morning a grass fire broke out on the Appleton farm, near town, and for a time it was thought that the dwelling and barn would go, but with the assistance of friends and neighbors Appleton succeeded in arresting the flames at the very threshold of his residence.

The Festive Coyote.

(Herald's Column.)

The coyote-hunt law is in reality a piece of class legislation. Sheepmen, hogmen and poultrymen were the instigators of the law for the special protection of these interests. And no doubt a good many hunters, trappers and sportsmen die what the coyote gets it enacted for the sake of the revenue they knew to be in it for them.

On the other hand the law will, if long continued, work a hardship on the vineyardists, orchardists and farmers generally. It will kill one coyote for every ten or fifteen vines, trees or vegetables, means an increase of at least 100 jack-rabbits and cottontails within a year.

Now suppose during the two years this law will be in force that 300 coyotes are killed in each county in the State, this would be about sixteen thousand coyotes, and permit an extra increase of about three million of the long-eared tribes aforementioned.

How long will the State continue the legislation that encourages such a state of things? We believe the law will be repealed as soon as possible after the convening of the next Legislature.

In the meantime the law will change the channels of considerable quantities of money. Young orchards, vineyards and vegetable gardens will necessarily be fenced. Wire netting will be in great demand. There will be an increase in the sale of firearms and ammunition. Rabbit pie will often take the place of lamb and the festive cottontail will be frequently substituted for spring chicken. Sheepmen and chicken-raisers may find after all that the law is not a rose without thorns. Even to the orchardist it is not an unmixed evil. For while the Coyote has no relish for the bark of fruit trees, nor appetite for the buds of grapevines, he does not like to stuff himself on ripe peaches, luscious grapes and red-ripe strawberries. Hence, his extermination would give joy to the fruitman if there were no over-balancing evil effects.

Curing Lemons.

(Ontario Observer.)

For several seasons G. W. Garcelon of Riverside has been in possession of the secret of curing lemons—a secret which neither the money nor the persuasion of other lemon-growers could induce him to divulge. He now says that he will make his process of curing lemons known, his excuse for not doing so sooner being a desire to perfect the process before it was made public. Lemon-growers are awaiting with much interest the unfolding of the val and secret that has enabled Mr. Garcelon to keep his lemons in a perfect state of preservation from November till July; for upon their ability to cure lemons so they will keep till midsummer, depends the success of this important industry. When the process is explained the growers will no doubt be astonished at its simplicity. It probably differs in no essential respects from the successful process by which Ontario's growers of prize lemons cure their fruit.

GIVEN TO

D R. WOH,

The Eminent Chinese Physician.

Haps and Medicines of Absolute Purity constantly on hand and for Sale.

No Opium or Poisonous Drugs are used in my Practice.

Dr. Woh's life work has been from early youth one of persistent and untiring observation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all branches of the art of healing human sickness and disease. Born in China, of influential parents, of a family whose ancestors have been for generations deservedly renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of his fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at one time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time his great number of patients, his wonderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from grateful and thankful patrons now prove him to be a remarkable and successful healer of sickness and all diseases.

For many years I have been troubled with lung disease, which finally ended in asthma and consumption.

I consulted with the best physicians I could find but they did me no benefit, but on the contrary I got worse and worse, until I was told by one of them I could not recover. Dr. Woh took me in his condition. He has in two months time entirely cured me. I most cordially recommend him to all sufferers.

MRS. F. WESSEL.

Gladys Evelyn's Suit Against William Henry Hurlbert.

ALLEGED BREACH OF PROMISE.

Disproof of the Scandalous Charges Brought Against the Ex-Owner of the New York World by a London Adventure—Hurlbert's Career.

The literary and political circles of London were recently agitated by the center of a breach of promise case in which an actress named Gladys Evelyn was the plaintiff and Mr. William Henry Hurlbert, formerly editor and proprietor of the New York World, the defendant. The hearing of the suit occupied several days, and the evidence was of a decidedly sensational character. According to the story of Miss Evelyn, who is a fine looking, buxom woman of some thirty years, she met Mr. Hurlbert in an omnibus, and they immediately began a silent flirtation. Her heart was in a wild flutter of excitement when she alighted from the vehicle and discovered that her "unknown friend" was following her. She felt that she would really like to know the gentleman, and that feeling overcame her scruples, and induced her to go through the ceremony of self-introduction on his part. After the ice was broken in this fashion "betrayal" followed. Mr. Hurlbert promised marriage, but after repeated evasions confessed that the name of Wilfred Murray, which he is said to have assumed during the intrigue, was false, and that he was a married man. Then, by way of reparation, he promised her $4,000 cash and $500 a year for life. This money was not forthcoming, however, and on discovering the real name of her betrayer she brought this suit for damages.

In defense Mr. Hurlbert entered a complete denial, and charged the plaintiff with a gross and wicked attempt at blackmail. It was utterly untrue, he declared, that he had ever passed under any other name than his own. Formerly, however, he employed a person named Wilfred Murray as his

SANTA MONICA.

SANTA MONICA, June 12.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] There was a good crowd down today, as there has been for several days past. It is fair to predict that the influx of visitors will continue to increase daily from this time on until the flood-tide of the season is reached. A few hot days will also bring in the campers and cottagers, a number of whom are already here.

Postmaster Vawter, who has the best opportunity for knowing, notes the fact that there are a good many strangers in town, who daily inquire for mail.

Next Sunday is what is known among the Methodist people as "Children's day." On the second Sunday in June it is the custom of the pastors of the Methodist Episcopal Church to deliver discourses with direct reference to the young of the church. Rev. Mr. Morrison, pastor at Santa Monica, will preach a sermon in the morning to the parents and adults and in the evening the children will carry out their programme.

The street railway was completed today to the ostrich farm. W. D. Vawter, the owner, says the cars will commence their regular run next Monday morning. The road now extends about six miles—from the ostrich farm to the door of one of the barracks buildings at the Soldiers' Home.

James H. Murray of the California Volunteers was buried at the Home cemetery yesterday. Rev. Mr. Morrison of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiated at the funeral. He was the leader of the Redlands orchestra, and was interested in all musical enterprises.

Capt. H. T. Matthews and Lieut. T. W. Smith, who were here yesterday in the interest of the encampment that it is proposed to hold here in August. But nothing is as yet settled. Col. Schreiber and others will be down tomorrow to look further into the matter. If possible, to settle the matter definitely.

Mrs. Dr. Ainsworth came down this morning with a party of ladies.

Mrs. Whitney of Pittsburgh is spending a few days at the Casino.

W. R. Corson of the Casino is the architect of the new building which is completed tomorrow. Mr. Douglas, the leader of the band who occupied the stand last Sunday, says he never played in a better one.

Victor Hoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hoff, returned last evening to Santa Monica on a visit to his parents. He has been absent nearly a year.

Large posters are now on display around town announcing Fourth of July half-rates on the Southern Pacific within a radius of 100 miles of the station. Tickets will be sold on the 4th, 5th and 6th. Extra trains on the Fourth.

Arrivals at Hotel Arcadia: Col. W. O. Porter, Pittsburgh; Mr. Minnie Maud A. Lord and Miss M. E. Cushman, Los Angeles.

The following are registered at the St. James: W. M. Hostetter and wife, M. L. Hostetter and Warren Hostetter, St. Louis; Rev. S. H. Frary, St. Louis; G. M. Morse and wife, Riverside; C. G. Tracy, Los Angeles.

There will be another concert by Douglas's band Sunday, both morning and afternoon.

DOS PESCADORES.

POMONA, June 12.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The third annual commencement at Pomona Congregational College, at Claremont, next week, will attract the attendance of hundreds of people in this vicinity. Representatives from every congregational church in this part of the State are expected to present. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached at 11 a.m. on Sunday by Rev. S. H. Frary. On Monday evening the annual freshman prize debate will take place, and thirteen young men have already entered as contestants. The prizes comprise about $120 worth of reference and historical books. The examination of the prize debate will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday. The annual reception will be held on Wednesday evening. Seamus's orchestra will furnish the music, and there will be a short programme of vocalists.

The marriage of Edgar K. Blades, son of Franklin Blades of this place, to Miss Brownie Clark, at the home of the bride on Figueroa street in Los Angeles, on Thursday afternoon, was attended by about twenty young people from Pomona.

County Auditor Converse Howe has been chosen a member of the Pomona Board of Education in place of F. D. Joy, who resigned. Mr. Howe has been a member of the board for nine years and has honored the office.

The social members of Co. D, N.G.C., of Pomona, are planning a series of select and informal dancing parties at the Armory during the summer season.

Richard Gird, at Chino has been informed that about thirty carloads of machinery for the great beet-sugar factory and refinery at Chino will be ready to start from New Orleans about June 15th. The machinery was made at Stuttgart and Leipzig, Germany, at a cost of over $2,000,000, and three steamers were employed in carrying the immense weight of iron from Bremen to New Orleans. Five German crews have come from their homes to Chino specially to give aid and directions in setting up the machinery and starting the factory and refinery. They are experts in the starting of beet sugar factories in Germany, and all earn large salaries. They will remain here until they have completed their work at Chino. The work of erecting the mammoth building is going on now faster than ever, and scores of people from Pomona, Ontario and all this region are coming to the plant to witness the work. Mr. Oxnard, the sugar-beet capitalist and expert, who is the backer of this great enterprise at Chino, is expected to arrive from New York tomorrow on the scene of operations. In about ten days more the first beet-sugar factory in Southern California and the only beet-sugar refinery west of the Rocky Mountains. He says that no factory in the world will have such an equipment of the latest and most approved beet-sugar machinery as the Cuyo factory, and that no factory anywhere will be able to produce sugar from raw product as quickly as this one. He reckons that six to eight years will be required to build the plant, and that it will be time necessary at the Chino factory to make pure granulated sugar from the beet. There is no factory in Germany that can do the same thing in less than twenty-four hours. Mr. Oxnard is confident and so are the people at Chino, who have long been engaged in handling sugar-beets in Europe, that a net profit of $110 an acre can be made by nearly every planter of beets on Chino this year, and also that with expertness in the growth of sugar-beets in this locality a profit of $150 an acre may be made a few years. Mr. Gird has reason to believe that acreage of sugar-beets at Chino will grow to 10,000 acres next year, and that other sugar factories, but not refineries, will be started in this region within two or three years. The Pomona growers of the beets are particularly enthusiastic and we hear of some who have already decided to double their acreage of the vegetable next year.

Death of H. L. Sloan of Redlands. REDLANDS, June 12.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] H. L. Sloan of the Sloan House died here this morning at 4 o'clock. Mr. Sloan has been connected with the Sloan House from the first. He has seen Redlands grow from her infancy, was active in all her interests, and was a highly esteemed citizen. He was the leader of the Redlands orchestra, and was interested in all musical enterprises.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

Such Was Last Night's Concert.

THE GRANT SCHOOL EXERCISES

The High School Commencement Programme—A Bunch of Brevities.

A large and enthusiastic audience was present yesterday evening at the Congregational Church to hear the first concert given by the Pasadena Choral Society. The following programme, of which more extended mention will be made in tomorrow's issue, was rendered:

Grand organ overture from William Tell (Kossini)—Prof. Wilde.
"Ratification," chorus for ladies' voices (P. Lacombe).
"Young Lovers," chorus for male voices (T. Kossini).
"Evening Prayer" and "Angels' Chorus" from the Oratorio of Elia (M. Costa)—Solo by Miss Messemore.
"Evening Song" by the Orion Male Quartette (C. Banks)—Messrs. Kutner, Eilenberger, Taylor and Kyle.
"Little Bird," solo and chorus for ladies' voices (Soderberg)—Solo by Miss Appel.
"Quies et Homo" (Stabat Mater) (Kossini)—Duet by Mrs. Clapp and Miss Clark.
"Inflammatus," full chorus (Kossini), solo by Mrs. Clapp.
Grand organ, "Marche Funebre et Chant Versé" (Kossini)—Prof. Wilde.
"Largo," quartette and chorus (Händel)—Messrs. Graham, White, Stoutenberg, Mrs. Stouffer.
"Farewell" (Max Vorlieb)—Male chorus.
"Cradle Song" (John Brahms)—Miss Lloyd, Mrs. Eilenberger, Miss Stouffer.
"Wanderer's Night Song" (Lied)—By the Orion Male Quartette.
"The Dawn," soprano solo and chorus for ladies' voices (M. Bruch)—Solo by Mrs. Clapp.
"The Ascension" (from the Redemption) (Händel)—Narrators, Messrs. Kutner and Logie.

The following pleasing announcement, which explains itself, was circulated with the programme.
"The Pasadena Choral Society having been organized on a permanent basis, desires to announce that it has established an associate membership of 250. These, by a subscription of $5, will be entitled to tickets for three consecutive annually. The number of tickets issued to each member to be regulated by the size of the auditorium; not less, however, than three being given at any one time. No tickets whatever will be sold."

A. A. White has been chosen to act as secretary of the organization.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Interesting programme at the Grant School.
Yesterday morning the closing exercises were held at Grant school on Michigan avenue. A large flag floated above the building, and the interior was prettily trimmed with flowers and evergreens. The scholars were rigged out in their best, and their faces were wreathed with smiles as they contemplated their early release from school duties and vexations.

The exercises were held in Principal Evans' room, and were also participated in by the lower grade pupils in Miss Elliott's department. A number of visitors were present. The programme was as follows:

Song—"By the School."
"One at a Time" (Frank Randeman).
"Birds in Summer"—Mabel Knight.
"The Sunshine Fairy"—Mabel Knight.
Song—"Mill May."
"A September Tale"—Paul Bliss.
"A Lesson in Form"—Thirteen little ones.
"A Nest in a Pocket"—Ellen Peterson.
"Work for All"—Beulah Gougar.
"His Profession"—Kirk Byer.
Song—"School."
"Taking Flop's Picture"—Maggie Bonnie.
"Good Night"—Ethel Blumne.
"The Sand Piper"—Bertha Hartley.
"There is a Black in the Blue of the Sky"—Willie Magee.
Song—"The Bird's Concert."
"How We Tried to Whip the Teacher"—Verna Corbin.
"How the Leaves Came Down"—Lilly Calicut.

"The School Room"—Floyd Worrell.
Song—"George Washington."
Earth's Richest Treasures.
Priestesses of Nature—Gertrude Mendelshon.
Flora—Grace Porter.
Terrestrial—Gertrude Stevano.
Celestial—Jeannette Stevano.
Aerial—Jeannette Stevano.
Metamorphic—Gertrude Stevano.
Plutonic—Gertrude Stevano.
Song—"School."
"A Trick on Grandmother"—Inez Blumne.
"Burial of the Minnesotian"—Philip Barthelmy.
"To a Water Pail"—Laura Virgin.
"Little Brown Hands"—Herbert Howe.
Song—"The Owl."
"Clandestine of Nature"—Mary Houlahan.
"The School Room"—Floyd Worrell.
"The Fox and the Owl"—Florence Porter.

The exhibit of work done by the different grades during the past year was displayed in Miss Elliott's room, and compared favorably with those of the other schools previously described.

THE GRADUATES.

And What They Will Do Monday Night.

BUSINESS.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

LOS ANGELES, June 13, 1931.

Eggs were in lighter supply today, and the market was firmer with a further advance in prices. There were few other changes of importance in the list.
A New York dispatch says: "The Porter Bros. Company of this city received today a carload of choice black Tartarian and black Bigarreau cherries from the California Fruit Union. They should be at auction at prices ranging from 50c to $2 per box."

Money, Stocks and Bonds.
NEW YORK, June 12.—Money—On call, easy; closing offered at 3/4 per cent.
PRIME MERCANTILE PAPER—5 1/2% @ 7.
STERLING EXCHANGE—Firm; 60-day bill, 4 1/2% demand, 4 1/2%.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The stock market today was the same dull, listless affair. The influence of the crop report was still seen, however, in the buying of granulars for western account, and Atchafon by Boston, though the firmness exhibited was more the result of limited offering than any marked demand for anything on the list. Of industrial sugar was let off 1/4 per cent. for no apparent reason, while the reported establishment of a new distillery again served to depress Whisky Trust. The market closed dull and strong at the best prices of the day. Rice island advanced 1 1/2 while sugar declined 1/4 and whisky 1/4. Government bonds were steady.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The stock market today was the same dull, listless affair. The influence of the crop report was still seen, however, in the buying of granulars for western account, and Atchafon by Boston, though the firmness exhibited was more the result of limited offering than any marked demand for anything on the list. Of industrial sugar was let off 1/4 per cent. for no apparent reason, while the reported establishment of a new distillery again served to depress Whisky Trust. The market closed dull and strong at the best prices of the day. Rice island advanced 1 1/2 while sugar declined 1/4 and whisky 1/4. Government bonds were steady.

IT BRIEFS

A Chinaman named Ah Wing was yesterday arrested by Detective Auble and locked up on a charge of playing fan tan.

The postal authorities complain that boys maliciously smash the time dials on the letter boxes and deface the cards. The matter will be investigated by the police.

Rev. Dr. Hanna has returned from the session of the general synod of Evangelical Lutheran Churches. He will fill the pulpit of the First Lutheran Church for several months.

An election will be held in San Bernardino county today on the issuance of $500,000 courthouse bonds. There is great feeling over the matter and the election promises to be an exciting one.

Pumping commenced at the sixteen-inch well of the West End Oil Company, near the Baptist College, yesterday afternoon. Tests will be made at once, and if the quality of the oil is satisfactory, operations will commence on a large scale.

Rev. Charles S. Cook of the Pine Ridge Agency of South Dakota will give an address in the Church of the Epiphany, East Los Angeles, next Tuesday evening. Mr. Cook will give an account of work among the Indians in Bishop Hare's jurisdiction.

Yesterday afternoon word was sent to the police station that there was a woman at large on Alamo street. The patrol wagon was dispatched for the unfortunate, when it was found that the person was Emma Jary, a young woman subject to spasms, and she was taken to her home.

P. L. Adams, a laborer, at work at a new building on Spring street, was badly shaken up by falling from a scaffold, a distance of twelve or fifteen feet. He was taken to the police station for medical treatment. Fortunately, no bones were broken, and he was able to get about in an hour or two.

Frank Bartlett, Post No. 6, G. A. R., wishes to secure proof of the death of one Augustin E. Moriarty, late paymaster's clerk, U. S. N., who is supposed to have died in this city about March 8, 1885. Any one in possession of said proof will confer a favor by communicating with the adjutant of the post, Sam Katz, at the County Clerk's office.

The City Assessor must close his books on the first Monday in July, and citizens who have not filed their lists should do so at once. No property will be assessed to unknown owners this year. Where persons fail to report, the names are secured from the records, and the property is assessed to the owner of record, in which case no redress can be had before the Board of Equalization.

Messrs. Pottle and Hawver negotiated an exchange of property yesterday between Foxhunter Dunn and Capt. Anderson. Mr. Dunn gives his fine residence on Adams street, valued at $10,000, for the property of Capt. Anderson's forty-acre ranch at San Gabriel, valued at $45,000. There are twenty-two acres of fine bearing orange trees on the place, together with an elegant residence, barn, etc.

L. Clyde Smith of Muncy, Penn., is at the Westminster.

H. G. Stephens has gone to San Diego on a business trip.

B. F. McConnell and family went to Chicago yesterday.

Geison Goldsmith of Chicago is quartered at the Hollenbeck.

H. S. Milliner is in the city on business. He is at the Nadeau.

E. A. Pierre of San Francisco is a guest at the Hollenbeck Hotel.

J. A. Haas, a traveling man of Chicago, is registered at the Nadeau for a few days.

S. Strausburger of San Francisco is registered at the Hollenbeck.

Walter Vall, the cattle king of Arizona, is a guest of the Hollenbeck.

R. O. Broad, a traveling man of Chicago, is at the Nadeau for a few days.

Mrs. M. W. Stinson and two children started yesterday on a journey to Boston.

J. W. Hagan and wife are in the city for a time and are located at the Nadeau.

William Frazer of San Francisco is on a short visit to the city and is located at the Nadeau.

Count Rivas of Redondo was a passenger on the Santa Fe overland yesterday, bound for New York.

W. A. Clement of this city left yesterday for Manchester, N. H., on a visit to friends and relatives.

Messrs. Suple and wife of Bayon Gonia, La., arrived in the city last evening and are guests at the Nadeau.

James Wilson and J. J. Rockwell, both of Pomona, are among the guests registered at the Hollenbeck yesterday.

Jacob Davis and James Schmidt, Buffalo capitalists who are making a tour of Southern California, have rooms at the Westminster.

N. Armijo of Los Cruces, Mrs. R. C. Moorehead of Pasadena and J. W. Taylor and wife of Syracuse, N. Y., are guests at the Hollenbeck.

John L. Sullivan and wife, Frank E. Moran and Fred Strong and wife of Honest Hearts and William Hands Company have apartments at the Hollenbeck.

Mrs. Outwater of Sierra Madre and friends, Miss N. E. Henderson of Cleveland, O., and Miss F. R. Hough of Washington, D. C., are at the Westminster.

Eastern people who registered at the Hollenbeck yesterday were: Mr. Mook and wife, Denver, Colo.; F. F. Hagerly, Chicago; W. H. Harrison, New York; and George E. Knight of Denver.

Judge T. K. Wilson has returned from a business trip to Oregon. In that State of websters, the Judge journeyed fifty 300 miles on mud sleds, the only means of conveyance in certain sections of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tansill of Chicago are at the Westminster, and are making a tour of California, and the Pacific Coast previous to their departure for Alaska. Mr. Tansill is a director of the Peoos Irrigation and Improvement Company of New Mexico, which is probably the largest irrigation enterprise in this country, and the principal object of his visit to California at this time is to see the great development being accomplished here through the means of irrigation.

THE RAILROADS.

New Rails and Cars for the Terminal Road Arrive.

A KICK AGAINST THE PULLMAN

Southern Pacific Coast Line Reorganization—Mr. Wincup's Reorganization—Good Freight Business—Notes.

Yesterday the Santa Fe road, about thirty miles this side of Barstow was blocked in a peculiar manner. A blast was made at a stone-quarry situated near the tracks at that point, which dislodged an unusually large quantity of rock and tumbled a great mass upon the railroad. Flammens were sent out in both directions to warn approaching trains of the obstruction and all the available help was set at work to remove it. It was expected that it would take until midnight to clear the track. The west-bound overland train had passed the point shortly before the blast was fired, but the east-bound train was delayed a little by the temporary blockade, and freight trains lost their time on the schedule. There was no danger, no narrow escape and nothing sensational in the incident. Everything will be running smoothly by this morning.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC APPOINTMENTS. The changes of officials incident to the transfer of the Coast division control to the general system have been forecast. The official circular issued by General Manager A. N. Towne announces the changes as follows: Assistant Superintendent W. H. Haydock to be superintendent of the Coast division, with headquarters at San Francisco; A. C. Bostwick, resigned; Joseph Murphy to be acting resident engineer of the division, with headquarters at San Jose; H. McKerton to be master mechanic of the division, with headquarters in San Francisco, vice J. T. Wilson, resigned. G. W. Phelps has received the appointment of trainmaster under Mr. Haydock.

NEW STEEL FOR THE TERMINAL. Four carloads of new steel arrived yesterday noon for the Los Angeles Terminal road, and thirteen more will arrive today. These seventeen loaded cars are new from the shops, and are the forerunners of the steel for this growing terminal. The rails came through in ten days from Joliet, Ill. Work of tracklaying on the line to Long Beach will be rapidly pushed now that a supply of material is on hand.

SCAT HEAT. L. S. Hough, agent for the Southern California at Colton, was in the city yesterday, accompanied by his wife.

The trolley wire and suspension wire for the second-street electric road have arrived and will be rapidly put in place.

Superintendent Lockie of the National City and Olay road has been promoted to the position of general manager.

The Southern Pacific will use Jay Gould's refrigerator cars. This will prevent further complaints about the lack of proper care for fruit shipments.

Soliciting freight agents in this section are now as busy skimming for "apud" as they were a short time ago for oranges. Freight men now have a season all the year around.

J. N. Monk, joint freight agent for the Denver and Rio Grande and Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific roads at Denver, is passing a season hereabout, for the benefit of his health.

A report comes by way of Chicago that the W. Wash will come over by ticket collectors on the trains. That report ticket collectors were tried once before, and taken off again ignominiously.

Gravel of iron poles will be erected at each of the curves described by the line of the Belt Electric road. There will be six of these iron affairs which are made of b. iron, braced and riveted, and sufficiently strong to stand the great strain of the taut wires.

C. J. Wilder, freight auditor of the Southern Pacific road, who is touring Southern California in his private car Buenaventura, has been seen in the city, accompanied by Mr. Flint, superintendent of the mail service, and an inspector in the employ of the Postoffice Department, who are looking after the service in this section.

William Wincup, general passenger agent of the Los Angeles Terminal road, went east yesterday by the Santa Fe, accompanied by the remains of his venerable father, Benj. Wincup, who died in this city Wednesday evening at the advanced age of 80 years. The remains will be taken to the family home at Peoria, Ill., for interment.

The report is current and its truth insisted upon, says the San Luis Obispo Tribune, that the Southern Pacific Company, indirectly of course, has become the owner of Plismo wharf and the steamer "Indefatigable."

The statement is somewhat puzzling one, as it is difficult to see what possible use the Southern Pacific Company would have for either piece of property.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle writes to that paper protesting against the practice of filling up the through Pullman cars with day passengers, who board the train at points as far south as Berkeley on the Southern Pacific.

The custom is in violation of the contract entered into between the Pullmans and the passenger, as it deprives the latter of the space which has been paid for whenever the company sells enough seats to compel four persons to sit in a section, as it invariably does when it gets a chance.

THE REFORM SCHOOL.

It Will Commence to Receive Boys on the First of July.

The following proclamation concerning the Whittier Reformatory School has been issued by the Governor:

"Having been officially notified by the trustees of the Reformatory School for juvenile offenders, located at Whittier, Cal., that the institution will be in readiness for the proper reception of inmates by the 1st day of July, A. D. 1891, in accordance with the provisions of sec. 15, chap. civ. of the Statutes of this State, I do hereby order that the twenty-eighth session of the Legislature, in 1889.

"I, H. B. Markham, Governor of the State of California, do hereby make public proclamation of that fact.

"Therefore on and after the 1st day of July, A. D. 1891, it shall be lawful for said board of trustees to receive into its care and guardianship infants between the ages of 10 and 18 years committed to its custody to be cared for according to law."

A Weakness for Books. Yesterday morning the proprietor of the second-hand bookstore at the corner of Second and Main streets detected a couple of well-dressed women in the act of stealing books. One of the women wore a cloak, under which she secreted the stolen books, and when accused of the theft at first were very indignant, but seeing that there was no way out of it, suddenly threw the books down and hurriedly walked away. The proprietor, being alone in the store, could not pursue them, and they made their escape.

The women are described as rather tall, brunette, and it is said that they have also paid their respects to other places. A watch will be kept for them, and in case they again attempt any of their tricks they will be arrested.

Ex-Rev. Fleming Seriously Ill. Ex-Rev. Fleming is seriously sick at the County Jail. He was taken suddenly with a fit, or spasm, Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock, since which time he has been in a dangerous condition. It was at first thought he had poisoned himself, but this was not the case. He was resting easier last night, but it will be a day or two before any opinion can be formed as to the outcome of the attack. Fleming has been a long and useful man, and his death would be a great loss to the community.

Only One del Coronado. Half-price excursions to San Diego, Saturday and Sunday. Tickets good returning following Monday inclusive. Apply at Santa Fe ticket office 129 North Spring street, and First street station, California Southern railway.

THE SAN FRANCISCO BOARD OF HEALTH.

We, the members of the Board of Health of the City and County of San Francisco, Cordially approve and recommend the Royal Baking Powder. It is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients, of the highest strength and character.

In our judgment it is impossible make a purer or stronger Baking Powder than the Royal.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

[News intended for this department should be furnished promptly, and sent addressed "The Times-Society News" accompanied by the name of the sender as a guarantee. Write briefly and plainly, giving the facts without needless verbiage.]

A SOCIETY WOMAN TALKS. "I went to see Men and Women the other night at the Grand Opera-house," remarked a society woman, "but I didn't succeed, for the reason that a woman with a two-story, broad-brimmed garden hat occupied the seat immediately in front of me. My husband and I counted seven of these miniature flower-garden hats in the parquette and dress circle—worn by ladies who occupy a front seat in the first row of Los Angeles society. We were playing hide and seek all the evening trying to get a view of the stage, but just as my opera glass was leveled at the leading lady a wilderness of ostrich plumes took the lens and the stage. If ladies insist upon wearing those sea-horse hats to the theater I put in a plea for the London patent, whereby on touching a hidden spring the hat drops flat as a pancake and the brim shrivels up to the size of a tea plate."

CLASSES IN ROMAN HISTORY ENTERTAINED. The classes in history and literature, conducted by Mrs. Averill, above referred to, were very successful in their social element with their literary pursuits, and are doing, perhaps, more of genuine literary work in an intelligent, comprehensive way than any other body of women in Los Angeles.

Yesterday afternoon the case in Roman history was entertained by Mrs. C. E. Day and Mrs. J. B. Martin at the residence of Mrs. Day, on Court street.

The rooms were handsomely decorated with roses and jasmine, and an interesting program was rendered. Miss Varley played Schumann's melody "In the Forest." Mrs. Gibson gave a reading, and Mrs. Wickizer a recitation. Mrs. Pomeroy and Mrs. Stafford gave vocal selections, and Mrs. Chapman also sang a ballad, accompanying herself on the guitar. Mrs. Martin played a guitar and Mrs. Day a piano solo. Afterward there was general conversation, delicious refreshments were served, and the afternoon proved a social and intellectual delight.

In addition to those already mentioned, there were present Mesdames A. S. Averill, F. A. Gibson, Teale, Enderlein, Steere, Stowell, Hout, Hendricks, Coulter, Woodhead, Durand, Judson, Johnson, Broussau, Stephens, Misses Shelton and McManus. A reunion of all the classes was partially planned for Saturday, June 27, the place to be decided by the committee.

WOMEN'S CLUBS IN LOS ANGELES. Women's clubs are springing up like violets after rain, all over the world. The native women of India have a sorority club, after the New York model, at Bombay, numbering 300 members. In New Jersey there is a women's club named "The Sparrows," because they live on the literary crumbs that fall from the big clubs' tables.

An American is not a member in this beautiful progressive movement. She has her Kinkin Art Club, composed of women interested in black and white art; her Friday Morning Club, recently organized, which devoted its attention to the leading current events of the day; her Ladies' Annex, devoted to the business interests of Southern California; her classes in history and literature, conducted by Mrs. Anna S. Averill, and composed of ladies of literary tastes; her Roman Suffrage Club; her King's Daughters, devoted to the cause of the poor; her Treble Clef musical club—all these composed entirely of women.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL. The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church gave a strawberry and ice-cream festival last night in the church parlors. An interesting program was rendered before the social enjoyments of the evening began. The following young ladies represented the various societies: Miss MacLain, Japan; Miss Cune, Burnham; Miss Clara Roberts, Africa; Miss Selby, India; Miss Boynton, China; Miss Brotherton, America. Mrs. Morfitt sang a solo, Miss Young read a poem, and Miss Boynton and Master Morrill Boynton gave an entertaining little dialogue. A song by Miss Minnie Morgan completed the literary program.

GAMMA CHAPTER. The Gamma Chapter of the High school held its latest society meeting of the school year yesterday afternoon. Nearly all of the 130 members were present. There was an interesting program of music and recitations, an essay on Lake Tahoe and an humorous paper on the latest edition of the "Book of the Dead." The newspaper of the chapter was ably edited, and, among other interesting features, contained a story entitled "Loving Backward," and a play, "The President of the Gamma is Miss Clara Roberts, who enjoys the distinction of being the only female president in the four chapters of the High school.

FRIDAY MORNING CLUB. The Friday Morning Club met yesterday to discuss the life and writings of Charles Dudley Warner. Mr. Wing gave some very pleasing personal reminiscences of the bright writer, and readings were given by various members from the "Drawer" in "Harpers." There are already about eighty members in this club which is yet in embryo state. It is hoped that it will result in an organization something like the "Women's Club of Chicago," which has distinguished itself by the taste and the pursuits of its members.

CHURCH DINNER. The ladies of the Second Baptist Church served lunch to a large crowd yesterday in the vacant store next The Times office and today will serve a hot dinner from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. Whether the bill of fare is conducive to dyspepsia or not can best be determined by sampling the dinner, which the ladies say will be served in fine style, with home cooking.

NOTES AND PERSONALS. Mrs. Banning and daughters leave today for the East, and will sail for Europe on the 24th.

Mrs. H. C. Gooding and daughter Gertrude, wife and daughter of Judge Gooding, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona, are stopping at the Argyle.

Miss Alice Auerfeldt and H. S. Williams will sing solos at the graduating exercises of the Woodbury College next Monday evening in the Grand Opera-house.

Prof. and Mrs. E. W. Payne and Mrs. H. J. Millard, sister of Mr. Payne, who has just arrived from Olympia, Wash., received their relatives and friends at Illinois Hall Tuesday night, and very sociable evening was spent in games, music and dancing.

A TIDAL WAVE OF SUCCESS GREETED LEWIS' GREAT BARGAIN FESTIVAL

THERE wasn't a day all last week, that the Great Bargain Festival wasn't crowded to the doors with eager purchasers. It was amusing to listen to the expressions of astonishment heard on all sides. A lady would pick up a shoe and instantly exclaim when she saw the price, "Oh! what a splendid shoe for only 85c! Isn't it ridiculously cheap?" And so it went all day long, day after day, during the entire week.

This Week Will be a Field Day FOR MORE BARGAINS!

The Druggists. In Lowell, Mass., agree in saying that they sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than of all other blood purifiers. For instance: F. O. GOODALE: I sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than all other blood purifiers.

A. W. DOWS & CO.: Hood's takes the lead of all other purifiers. C. F. BLANCHARD: We sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than of any other kind.

MARSTON & SHAW: With us the sale of Hood's is 10 to 1 of any other kind. F. & E. BAILEY & CO.: Hood's Sarsaparilla is one of the best medicines.

CASANOVA: Hood's Sarsaparilla is one of the best medicines we have. Its sale increases every year. F. P. MOODY: We sell twice as much of Hood's Sarsaparilla as of anything similar.

C. A. SWAN: Hood's is the most popular sarsaparilla of the day. THIRTY OTHER DRUGGISTS speak similarly.

This popularity at home, where Hood's Sarsaparilla and its proprietors have been known for many years, could not continue if the medicine did not possess merit. And these facts should certainly convince people in other sections of the country that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good, reliable medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by druggists. "1" six for $5. Prepared only by C. L. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.
